Death-Defying Fantasy Fueled by Love - The New York Times

'the baltimore waltz' has been one of my favourite plays from the first time i read it. this compilation has a wonderful variety and shows what range vogel has as a writer. 'and baby makes seven' and 'the oldest profession' are both a riot o laughs. 'hot'n'throbbing' is a disturbing yet much needed look at domestic violence.

The Baltimore Waltz - Barrow-Civic Theatre

The Baltimore Waltz is conceived in a way which might have allowed it to join the other great myths we use to help us apprehend the Endless No, but it is not there yet. Mythmaking is a task reserved for our greatest writers - Virgil for Eurydice, for example, or in our own day, Tony Kushner for Angels in America.
